General Comment

The proposed regulations that will include contraception as preventive care for women are long overdue and need to go into effect as soon as possible. This regulation will ensure the health of all adult and adolescent women in the United States. There should be NO exemption for religious beliefs. This will create a loophole that will deny many women this vital healthcare. The United States is a Secular and Democratic republic and religion should play no role in the regulation of healthcare. Please make sure that these vital regulations go into effect, and that they are strengthened.
